

A woman's job is never done better than by a woman.

Student-Teacher Relationships:
Women's Work

Male vs. Female

Since the dawn of time, males and females have learned to cohabitate and work together in order to survive. This is because we have separate roles that males and females must follow.

Male Roles:

- Provide food and shelter for family
- Work

Female Roles:

- Stay home and take care of the children
- Cook and clean

Interviews

In order to gain insight on student-teacher, relationships I interviewed students about past relationships with their teachers.

Findings:

- Both male and female students found that they got along with their female teachers better because they were easier to talk to, friendlier, and more nurturing.
- Female students also said that they felt that they could open up easily to their female teachers because they shared a

There should be more female teachers and the male population needs to back off and find

Conclusion

In conclusion, females are better teachers than males because it is their role to help and take care of children. Males should stick to more physical work like plumbing, police work, repairing, etc. Teaching is a good way for females to earn money because they are naturally good with kids.

